HISTORICAL SOCIETY TO PRESENT MAKING D.C. HISTORY AWARDS TO ANTHONY WILLIAMS, MEYER FOUNDATION, ASSOCIATION OF OLDEST INHABITANTS, McGUIRE FAMILY, AND WASHINGTONIAN MAGAZINE

WASHINGTON, DC: The Historical Society of Washington, D.C. invites local Washingtonians to join in honoring five new recipients of the Making D.C. History Awards on Friday, October 7. This annual award presentation and fundraiser recognizes local individuals, families, and organizations for their outstanding contributions to the D.C. community and its history.

Wendy Rieger of NBC4 News hosts the awards. The honoree reception and award dinner take place at the historic Carnegie Library at Mount Vernon Square, followed immediately by an opportunity to step back in time at the 1930's Art-Deco themed After Party. Tickets are currently on sale online:

"Our Making D.C. History Award winners have helped create, define, and preserve the fabric of our city," said John Suau, executive director of the Historical Society of Washington, D.C. "It is only fitting that they should be recognized for their enduring impact."

Former Mayor, Anthony Williams, will receive the Making D.C. History Award for Distinction in Civic Leadership. The Washingtonian magazine will be cited for Distinction in Local Media; the Meyer Foundation for Distinction in Local Philanthropy; and the Association of Oldest Inhabitants of D.C. for Distinction in Historic Preservation. In addition, the McGuire Family, of McGuire Funeral Services, Inc., is this year's recipient of the Legacy Families of Washington, D.C. Award.

"As the District's oldest civic organization, it is an honor to be recognized by the Historical Society of Washington, D.C.," said William Brown, president of the Association of Oldest Inhabitants of D.C. "It is truly a privilege to share the stage with this year's history makers in addition to being recognized by a fellow institution that is itself celebrating its 122nd year."

The Making D.C. History Awards are presented in partnership with Clyde's Restaurant Group, Digital Conventions, DowntownDC, EventsDC, OmniStudio, Wagner Roofing, Washington Walks, 888 Realty Investors, LLC, Museum of the Bible, and The Levy Group.
